

JOHAN CRUIJFF ARENA, AJAX, AMSTERDAM

JOHAN CRUIJFF ARENA, AJAX, AMSTERDAM

The Johan Crujff Arena, home to the legendary Amsterdam Football Club Ajax, is located in the heart of Dutch football culture. The Arena is a unique architectural masterpiece within our collection. It is one of the smallest models, with the intricate bridges, flyovers, and, of course, the iconic roof being meticulously recreated.

Opened in 1996 in Amsterdam-Zuidoost, this new Ajax stadium marked the end of matches held at another iconic Ajax venue: the Olympic Stadium. The Arena has a capacity of over 55,000 spectators, making it the largest stadium in the Netherlands. Since its opening in 1996, the stadium has been renowned for its architecture and its first retractable roof in Europe.

The Amsterdam Arena quickly became an icon of sport and entertainment in Amsterdam. After the passing of the legendary number 14, the Amsterdam Arena was renamed in 2018 to the Johan Crujff Arena, in honor of his extraordinary contribution to international football. One of the highlights of the stadium was the final of Euro 2000, where Didier Decamps for France was finally able to present the Henri Delaunay Cup to Europe.

The engineers at Stadiums For Ants will create your stadium to order, allowing us to incorporate your personal preferences. Add a personal touch to your stadium with a choice of wooden frame, display, or a personal inscription.

STADIUM DISPLAY OPTIONS

standard edition

premium edition color

premium edition flag

SIZING

standard edition size

premium edition size

FRAMES

Each stadium is enclosed by a wooden frame. For the standard edition, this is a walnut-look frame, for the premium edition this is a custom oak- or walnut-veneer frame. An acrylic cover is included.

Standard Walnut-look

Premium Oak Veneer

Walnut Veneer

Option: Premium plaque

STADIUMS FOR ANTS

To learn more about the project and stay updated with new models, visit our official website:

www.stadiumsforants.com

Lijnbaansgracht 56a
1015GS Amsterdam
Mail: info@stadiumsforants.com